CODE9 FITNESS

TECHNOGYM SELECTION · BEGINNER · 2–4 SESSIONS A WEEK

Machine Starter

4 weeks · Full body A + B · Legs day · Upper day · Gym

A safe, confident start on pin-loaded machines: two full-body sessions, a legs day and an upper-body day with your first dumbbell work. Learn every machine, find your settings, then build strength week by week.

Setting up the machines

On your first visit, go through every machine with a very light weight and write down your settings. Every adjustment on a Selection machine has a number — next time you set up in seconds.

Every machine, every time

- Line up the joint with the pivot — the coloured dot on the cam. Knee on the leg machines, shoulder on the presses.
- Range of motion: start on the default setting. Only change it if the stretch feels too deep.
- Pin all the way into the stack. Choose a weight you could lift 15 times with 3–4 reps left.

How to move

- 2 seconds out · 1 second hold · 3 seconds back.
- Never let the weight stack slam down.
- Breathe out as you push or pull, in as you return.
- Pain (not effort)? Stop, lighten or shorten the range.

YOUR 4 WEEKS

Warm-up and progression

Warm-up · 8–10 min, every session

- 5 min bike or cross-trainer, easy
- 10 bodyweight squats · 10 glute bridges · 10 arm circles each way
- One light set of 12 on the first machine before your working sets

Cool-down · 5 min

- Stretch the quads, hamstrings, hip flexors and chest
- 20–30 seconds each, easy breathing

How the weeks build

WEEK	WHAT CHANGES	EFFORT
1	Learn the machines — weights you could do 18–20 times	5–6 / 10
2	Same sets — add weight wherever 12 felt easy	6–7 / 10
3	Add one set to the leg press and both leg curls (the 4th box)	7 / 10
4	Chest and shoulder press to 10 reps with a slightly heavier weight	7–8 / 10

The progression rule. Hit the top of the reps on every set with clean form? Move the pin one plate heavier next time. Change one thing at a time — a rep, a set or the weight.

Your week

- 2 a week: A + B (full body), e.g. Mon + Thu
- 3 a week: A · B · then Legs day or Upper day — swap each week
- 4 a week (from week 3): Legs · Upper · rest · A · B
- Same muscles: at least one rest day in between

Good to know

- Pulling matters: the Upper day has a pulldown and a dumbbell row to balance all the pressing.
- Leg extension: fine for healthy knees. Pain at the front of the knee? Shorten the range.
- Abductor / adductor: they don't burn fat on the hips, but they strengthen the hips that keep your knees stable.

EVERY WEEK

Staying on track

Start each week here: read the line, do the one small action and tick it, and write your if · then plan for whatever could get in the way. Week 3 is where most people stop — the shaded rows are your milestones: week 3, halfway and the final week.

Never miss twice
Missing one session is life. Missing two in a row is the start of quitting — so the session after a miss is the one that counts.

Plan it like a meeting
Decide the day and time for every session at the start of the week. “When I have time” never comes.

If · then
Name what could get in the way, and what you’ll do instead. “If I work late, I’ll train at 7 am.”

Bad sessions count
A short or light session on a bad day keeps the habit alive. Showing up beats a perfect plan.

WK	YOUR FOCUS · THIS WEEK’S SMALL ACTION	✓	IF · THEN
1	“You don’t need to feel ready. You need to show up.” Write down your seat and pad settings after every session.	☐	IF _____ THEN _____
2	“The novelty fades — the habit starts. Halfway already.” Write down the days and times you’ll train next week.	☐	IF _____ THEN _____
3	“This is the week most people stop. You’re not most people.” Never miss twice: if you skip a day, the next session is non-negotiable.	☐	IF _____ THEN _____
4	“Four weeks ago these machines were new. Look at you now.” Compare your week 1 and week 4 weights — then choose your next program.	☐	IF _____ THEN _____

My training week

Plan it like a meeting: write the time you train on each day — and keep the appointment.
